

Engagement grades

5 = Driven

A driven student really wants to succeed and actively seeks feedback to improve his or her work. He or she meets homework deadlines and goes above and beyond what was expected. He or she shows great resilience when work is challenging. A driven student will make excellent progress from his or her starting point.

4 = Dedicated

A dedicated student is attentive, focussed, and responds well to feedback. He or she completes homework well and meets deadlines. He or she shows resilience in the face of challenges. A dedicated student will make good progress from his or her starting point.

3 = Diligent

A diligent student does what's required, and responds adequately to feedback. His or her homework is usually completed to a reasonable standard and on time. He or she can sometimes get discouraged if things are hard. A diligent student will make satisfactory progress from his or her starting point.

2 = Disengaged

A disengaged student makes little effort, and fails to act on feedback. His or her homework is unreliable in its quality, meeting deadlines or both. He or she will give up without really trying, and is unlikely to make good progress from his or her starting point.

1 = Disruptive

A disruptive student behaves in ways that disrupt the learning of others. He or she is likely to make little progress.
